Invitation
Conference on “Quality of tertiary education and the economic policy agenda”
Ljubljana, Slovenia
2 April 2007

Dear colleagues,

One of the key priorities of the Slovenian Presidency is investment in human capital. The Ministry of Finance of Slovenia in cooperation with Bruegel and the Center of Excellence in Finance is organizing a conference titled “Quality of tertiary education and the economic policy agenda” that will take place in Ljubljana on 2 April 2008.

Enhancing the quality of tertiary educations can bridge and facilitate the movement towards a "knowledge-based economy", "create more and better jobs" and contribute to sound fiscal positions. The conference will touch on the issues of the macroeconomic dimension of tertiary education, its quality aspects and the dimension offered by Europe (See program attached and possible updates at http://www.cef-see.org/education\_conference\_program.html).

We would invite you to register online at

http://www.cef-see.org/education\_conference\_application.html

The number of available spaces is limited and all applications will be treated on a first-come-first-served basis.

Looking forward to welcoming you in Ljubljana,

Sincerely yours,
